

Trip to Nasu - Part I

Contributed by Kay Soede
Monday, 23 August 2010

Like I mentioned earlier, on Thursday 8th July, we went to Nasu "overnight trip". It was initially going to be just my mum, myself and the boys, but I decided to invite Mayumi to come along to the trip, and she came with us, which was nice :) As everyone knows by now, she is great with boys, and I am so fortunate to have a friend like her "who doesn't mind going out with us!" This is how she kept the boys entertained in the car when they were bored! We went to mum's Amway friend's residence first. They are blind couple, Mr and Mrs Ozaki, and they don't even belong to my group, but she got to know them through their up-line Diamond, and as I was doing the puppy raising, we visited them when Zac was a baby. Since then, they have been good friends, so we decided to visit them again, so they can feel (?) how big Zac is now! Mrs used to be a midwife, so she loved cuddling him when Zac was a baby! They've got a different Guide Dog to the one they had when we visited last time and Zac was very nervous in the beginning, but got used to her in the end. Unfortunately, Fidel slept through the whole visit (a couple of hours!), so they didn't get to meet him! We stayed in the timeshare again "which was reserved by mum's friend, Mrs Tsukiji. She came along separate car, so we saw her at Mr and Mrs Ozaki's (the one who is holding Zac in the photo), and then again at the accommodation. Very nice place to stay " but as it was a golf resort, it was in the middle of nowhere!! We struggled to find a place to eat where it was kids friendly!!!