
David Soede 2015-2016 Poker Tourney wins

Contributed by David Soede
Monday, 06 June 2016
Last Updated Monday, 06 June 2016

I don't play much NLHE (No Limit Hold'em) Poker tournaments these days, preferring cash PLO (Pot Limit Omaha) at The Star when I get a chance to play poker, but it's nice to play the odd one with friends occasionally. I also like playing any >$100 tourneys on the Central Coast as it attracts the good players, and I always like to beat good players :) I've had a good run, winning 4 tourneys out of 5 entered, each with $2K+ prizes :)

On March 5th 2016 I won a PDU HR (High Roller) tourney for $2,000 (34 entries @ $165)

On December 27th 2015 I won the Johnny Chaloub Memorial at Settlers for $2,460 (40 entries @ $165)

Some time in 2015 I won the Central Coast Premier League for $2,000 (24 entries @ $200) - this was an interesting format as Southern Cross Poker selected some good players and played 4 weeks of "heats" mixing the players up on different tables, where each heat result contributed to an overall chip count for the Final Table (only the top 8 qualified). I won 2 heats and placed well in the others so was chip leader for the final table and won it after a Heads Up battle with David Banning.